GUIDE ME HOME NORTH CAROLINA · JOE SCHEDELER

48 Hours in Raleigh & the Triangle

Where to stay

Heights House puts you in Boylan Heights. For an early flight or more time around Cary, I’d book The Umstead.

FRIDAY · 5:15 P.M.

North Raleigh to your weekday destination

Drop a pin at a home north of I-540. Drive to your RTP office or RDU, whichever you’ll actually use. Note the time at the ramp as well as the time at the door.

FRIDAY EVENING

Dinner around Five Points or Raleigh Iron Works

At Brodeto, leave time to see the old ironworks on foot. Ajja and East End Bistrot give you two other corners of Raleigh to try.

SATURDAY MORNING

Five Points, Hayes Barton and North Hills

Take coffee from The Third Place along a block off Glenwood. Notice the setbacks in Hayes Barton, then compare the crossings around Six Forks Road. Cucciolo Terrazza has weekend brunch in North Hills.

SATURDAY EVENING

A dinner worth driving back for

Try Stanbury, Poole’s or Death & Taxes downtown. If you’re staying in North Hills, Peregrine serves dinner. Double back to your favorite block after dark.

SUNDAY MORNING

Give your favorite block a second look

Drive from the front door to the grocery store you’d use. If you arrived late Friday, save the RTP or airport run for a weekday.
